This architectural elevation drawing shows a two-story house with a gabled roof. The roof is covered in horizontal siding, while the gable end features a stone pattern. A large chimney with a stone pattern is located on the right side of the house. The main body of the house has horizontal siding. There are four windows: two on the second floor (one small square window, one larger 6-pane window) and two on the first floor (one 6-pane window, one 4-pane window). A front door with a 6-pane window is located on the first floor. A porch with a railing is on the right side, and a set of stairs leads up to it. A small label 'Opt Terrain Retaining Wall' is at the bottom right.
